

Cyberabad CP Dr. M. Ramesh, IPS, launches e-Office

Cyberabad Police Commissioner Dr. M. Ramesh, IPS, along with DCP Crimes Muthyam Reddy and DCP Cyber Crimes Y.V.S. Sudheendra, today launched the e-Office system at the Cyberabad Police Commissioner's Office Chamber, emphasizing the shift to a paperless work culture and the importance of digital transformation in government processes. The system is designed to streamline file tracking, enhance accountability, reduce delays in decision-making, and enable secure digital collaboration across departments.

The e-Office platform is a workflow-based digital system that replicates traditional file handling while adding automation and efficiency. It covers all stages, including registration of incoming files, file creation, movement of receipts and files, and archival of records. The system allows real-time tracking, strengthens accountability, ensures data security and integrity, and provides anytime, anywhere access. By standardizing procedures, reducing turnaround times, and enabling effective resource management, it fosters innovation, collaboration, and knowledge sharing while transforming the government work culture.

The Telangana Government has directed all state offices to adopt the e-Office system under its drive for paperless governance and improved administrative efficiency. Developed under the National e-Governance Plan, the platform supports electronic file movement, workflow automation, document tracking, and secure storage, ensuring transparent and responsive governance. Officials assured that training and technical support will be provided to departments to ensure a smooth transition.
